Visit to the American Corner in Mostar

The American Corner is located in the building of Gymnasium Mostar. It was created as a result of the cooperation of the American Embassy and local institutions. In the pleasant ambience of the Corner, students and professors were warmly welcomed by the host, Ivana Čuljak-Perić. She pointed out that Corner offers over 1000 books in English, TOEFL test materials, a large number of popular magazines such as Time, Rolling Stone, Elle, Vogue, etc. Membership in the American Corner is free. Students need to join, and then they can completely use the materials that Corner offers.

The American Corner also organizes presentations and seminars with lecturers from America, and through program activities mark important holidays from the history of the United States.

The American Corner promotes student exchange programs, such as the American Youth Leadership Program and the YES program, which allow students to spend three weeks or a full academic year in exchange for the United States.

We can proudly say that for many years the students of Second Gymnasium Mostar have been taking part in these programs, and a large number of them have successfully passed the tests that enabled them to stay in the US.

Our students had chance to see 3D printer during the visit, and they could see examples of 3D modeling. Also, they saw a fascinating robot.

Statehood Day of Bosnia and Herzegovina

Statehood Day is a public holiday in Bosnia and Herzegovina. In the Federation (the Bosniak-Croat entity), 25 November is celebrated as Statehood Day.

On this day in 1943, the Anti-Fascist Council of Bosnia and Herzegovina (ZAVNOBiH) adopted a resolution declaring Bosnia and Herzegovina an equal community of Serbs, Muslims and Croats.

- * The first session ZAVNOBiH (National Anti-Fascist Council of National Liberation of Bosnia and Herzegovina) was held on 25th November 1943 in Mrkonjic Grad.
- * At the meeting it was decided to renew BiH statehood, its historical borders were confirmed (which have been dated back to the times of medieval Bosnia), and Bosnia and Herzegovina was defined as one of the six equal republics of the former Yugoslavia.
- * On 25th November 1943 Bosnia and Herzegovina renewed its statehood, which was lost in 1463, when Bosnia came under the administration of the Ottoman Empire.

OCTOBER- NATIONAL BOOK MONTH

THE KNOWLEDGE WE GET BY READING, IS THERE WITH US US AT ANY TIME AND IN THAT WAY WE CONFIRM THAT THE BOOK IS OUR BEST FRIEND

Bringing a book closer to the reader, encouraging him to create reading habits, and making him fall in love with book is the basic aim of the activities that was initiated by the members of the English Language Section, the Literary and Library Section.

Wanting to draw attention to the books and their significance in the education and everyday life of people all over the world, in our country, for a long time, October is marked as the month of books ...

As part of the month of books members of the English Language Section, in co-ordination with professors Mrs.Nejra Music and Mrs.Arnela Pandur, worked on projects with prominent representatives of British and American literature.

The classmates of II prepared interesting presentations about David Thorpe and Bill Bryson. As part of the additional English classes for the first grade Piralic Emela and Zubovic Adelisa from I3 and Tucovic Amila, Čomor Lejla and Marić Elmedina from I4 made posters with writers and literary workers of British literature On October 26 we visited the American Corner in Mostar and got acquainted with their library. The Literary and Library section with professors Mrs.Jasmina Omerik and Mrs.Selma Hidović also popularized the literature and reading and prepared the reading materials and several reading surveys. Ehilmana Ćesić, Amina Ćehić, Armina Kukrica, Edna Šuta, Belma Ćatović, Merjem Husić and Aldin Merzić are hardworking students who have demonstrated that the reading habits should start from the youngest age. It is important to determine the time for a book, read different readings for as long as other obligations allow and have continuity of reading.

The school library has a large number of books .In order to improve library we invite all teaching staff and students to join the enrichment action by giving a book or more of them to the school library.

The Bridge at Mostar

by Bruce Balan

There was a bridge here.
For 500 years.
There was a bridge.

Children met on the bridge.
Leaned over the balustrade.
Threw stones into the river.
The stones did not care
from which side of the river they had come.
The river did not care.
And the bridge?
It was made of stone.
Bridges do not care.

Friends met on the bridge.
Lazed against the balustrade.
Sipped coffee, ate cake - messily, noisily.
They talked about oh, how it had rained last night.
They talked about a new scarf.

They looked up to the sun.
They laughed.
And when they parted,
they sometimes forgot which side of the bridge led home.

Lovers met on the bridge.
Sat on the balustrade.
Fingertips touched.
Cheeks touched.
Winds blew across the river.
The lovers kissed
and did not notice the wind braiding their hair.
The wind did not know which side of the bridge
the lovers were from.
Their lips did not know.
But their minds knew.
Always.
And they thought how difficult it was to be lovers who met on a bridge.
But also how exciting.
And they were grateful
that there was a bridge.

Birds met on the bridge.
Perched on the balustrade.
Sang.
Pecked crumbs left by the friends.
Swooped through the cool darkness below.
Then out again - joyously - into the light.
To the birds the bridge was a place for crumbs.
Each side was the same except on one they had built a nest.

It was a fine bridge.
An old bridge.

But then the bombs met on the bridge.
The bombs knew nothing of the bridge.
But the men who dropped them did.
The bombs knew nothing about the sides.
But the men who dropped them did.
The bombs knew nothing of the lovers.
But the men who dropped them did.

And now,
There is no bridge.

It is mixed with the stones dropped by the children
At the bottom of the river.
The river does not care.
It does not care for sides.
It feels the sides as it slides by
Like a blind man feels walls.
But it does not feel for the children.
Or the lovers
Or the bridge.
It flows over the bridge and says
You are mine now.
I will make smooth all that was broken.
I will make you forget
You were a bridge.

That is what rivers do.

The bridge is gone.
The lovers.
Gone.
The friends.
Gone.

A fine old bridge.
It stood for 500 years.

Now there is the river.
And the sides.
And the men with the bombs.

And the children.
Standing on the sides.
Stones in their hands.
Staring at the place.
Where there was a bridge.

THE LUCKY ONE

Nicholas Sparks

❖ About the writer:

*Nicholas Charles Sparks was born on December 31, 1965 in Omaha, Nebraska. He is American romance novelist and screenwriter. He has published twenty novels and two non-fiction books. Also eleven of his romantic-drama novels have been adapted to film. Sparks wrote his first novel, The Passing, in 1985 while he was a student at the University of Notre Dame. The most popular of his novels became bestsellers. Some of them are: Message in a Bottle (1999), A Walk to Remember (2002), The Notebook (2004), Nights in Rodanthe (2008), Dear John (2010), The Last Song (2010), The Lucky One (2012), Safe Haven (2013), The Best of Me (2014), The Longest Ride (2015), The Choice (2016).*

❖ Summary:

The Lucky One, by Nicholas Sparks, is a romantic novel told in a very interesting way. Each chapter is told from a different perspective, depending on whom of the characters the title is named. There are three main characters in the story - Keith Clayton, Logan Thibault and Elizabeth (Beth) Green. The actual story begins when Logan Thibault comes with his dog Zeus in Hampton, North Carolina from Colorado after his return from Marines. The whole action is initiated by the photo of Elizabeth which Logan found during the war in Iraq. His best friend Victor, who only survived with him, thought that the photo is Thibault's lucky charm and that he needs to find that woman.

After both of friends had returned from the war they started to live their lives trying to forget all horrible things that they had survived. Six months after Victor's wedding he died in 'boat accident'. Logan finally starts to feel connection with the woman in the photo and begins his journey. He explores every detail of the photo and when he came in Hampton, he found out the name and address of his Lucky Lady. Also he meets local police officer who is actually Beth's ex-husband and they have son called Ben. Logan does not tell Elizabeth the reason of his visit and he becomes her employee, just because her grandmother Nana had a stroke, so he needed to help her with kennel. Meanwhile, Logan and Elizabeth fall in love with each other.

Ben is very special child, because he is not interested in the same things like his friends. He wants to play the violin, he is great in playing chess and he has some kind of a place where he can hide when he wants to be alone and that is his grandfather's tree house. What is very important about Ben is that he has not got so good relationship with his dad (Keith), but instead of everything Keith wants for his son to play baseball. Clayton is jealous of Beth; he stalks her all around and tries to separate her from Thibault. The photo that Logan owns belonged to Elizabeth's brother Drake who also was in Iraq. Thibault decides to give the photo to Ben to protect him after he saw the tree house in decay. In the same time Clayton finds out the reason of Logan's coming and tells everything to Beth. She is angry and she breaks up with Logan after he convinced existence of the photo. Ben talks to his mother and tells her about Victor's belief. Now Beth hears the true story of Logan and understands that he was always honest. Keith is upset about this and he threatens her over taking all custody of Ben. When their son heard all of this, he escaped in the forest to his tree house. Logan saw another tire tracks and realized that Keith followed Elizabeth. When he arrived, Clayton and Ben were already in danger because of storm and collapsed house. German shepherd, Zeus, saved Ben while Logan and Keith disappeared under the water. Later we realize that Keith died and Logan survived.

After all complicate and misunderstood things Logan found the love of his life. He could not escape from the destiny and everything that was meant to happen to him. Is the story about lucky charm true or not, now does not really matter to him. Finally he completed his mission, he returned the debt from the war and Ben continued to carry the photo for good luck.

❖ Critical review:

The Lucky One is one of the best books I have ever read. To be honest, first I saw the movie chosen accidentally and then I wanted to read more about it. After that, I found out that the movie was adapted to the novel of the same title, written by Nicholas Sparks. Even there are some differences between the book and the movie, it is still amazing. I really enjoyed reading it and living through the several lives of the main characters. Accept from the main topic, which tells us how important true love is and that nothing can come between the two people in love, there is much more messages of this masterpiece. Love between the dog and his owner, dog's sacrifice and loyalty, disasters and terrible experiences in war, supporting other and different, following dreams, friendship, faith and hope - these are just some of the many lessons which I came across during reading. And of course, destiny cannot be forgotten when we talk about this bestseller. Furthermore, this is what made my faith stronger and proved everything I have always believed in.
